The University of Chichester is proud to be part of the National Professional Qualification (NPQ) Alliance, led by Ambition School Leadership.

Our courses are run by experienced facilitators who will deliver the NPQs, tailoring programme content to meet local challenges and each leader's development needs.

Our delivery team - including local school leaders and University tutors – is a specialist group of experts who have been selected and trained to deliver the new NPQ curriculum. The NPQ programmes align with school improvement plans and leaders' strengths and development areas, as well as partners' capacity to deliver and customise programmes in-house.
